

Shabnam Khan

HTML Email Developer

👤 Profile

I am currently a teacher teaching online, which in of itself require many skills, i am dedicated and up for the challenge.

I am also a very quick learner and a passion to learn especially in the IT department.

I am also an experienced email developer where i have created emails manually for other clients which have been fully responsive.

Im an active member on Slack in the emailgeeks channel where im always asking questions to better my skills. I have created projects for members on emailgeeks such as for a construction company.
